HOW TO USE THIS CATALOG

Each guidebook listing provides users with complete data on metallic composition, size, finish, year of issue, mintage, issue price and the market value at time of publication. Listings are designed to provide all essential information on each issue in one place and in readily understandable terms. In addition, all issues are indexed alphabetically by series or category and by subject.

CONDITION

Most catalogs of coins and medals give valuation for specimens in several grades of condition. However, since Franklin Mint issues are not generally used as exchange media, they are not likely to be found in worn condition. Therefore, only the original condition or quality has been considered in evaluating issues in this guidebook. In a few cases, certain promotional issues, transportation tokens and gaming tokens which did circulate are assigned to lower value than specimens of original quality.

MINTMARK

The Franklin Mint hallmark  appears on each specimen produced by the Mint.

INTRODUCTION

This fourth edition of the Guidebook is easily the largest yet published. It contains nearly twice as many sections as last year's edition, and lists over 14,000 different specimens — virtually every collectible ever created by the Franklin Mint.

Like its predecessors, this Guidebook offers all of the essential information collectors need when they wish to identify Franklin Mint specimens. And since we try to improve the Guidebook every year — taking heed of reader's suggestions — you will probably notice that this 1977 edition has a number of interesting new features.

This year there is a new section devoted entirely to the many issues of the Franklin Mint's Canadian affiliate. Collectors will also be pleased to find a special section describing the issues of the new Franklin Philatelic Division. And now, for the first time, four detailed sections have been set aside for other important collectibles previously listed under "Additional Products."

All of these innovations were made so that the Guidebook could better serve its basic purpose — to help collectors understand the artistic and historical significance of their Franklin Mint issues. We believe that by telling collectors as much as possible about the complete works of the Franklin Mint, we are enhancing their appreciation of their own specimens. For every individual issue is, really, part of a bigger story — the 13-year history of the Franklin Mint and all of its issues.

Not surprisingly, then, the serious collector who reads this Guidebook is truly fascinated with his collection, and he seizes every opportunity to deepen his understanding of it. Accordingly, he hasn't the slightest intention of ever parting with his collection — in fact, he probably intends to hand it down to his children.

And for those who are seriously collecting with an eye to the future, the current market value of a specimen is not very meaningful. After all, any art historian will testify that the current market value of a work — especially a recent work — doesn't necessarily have anything to do with its artistic or historical value. To cite just one example, the great Rembrandt was bitterly disappointed when, late in his career, his paintings fell considerably in popularity. Yet today those very paintings are considered masterpieces, and are sold for enormous sums.

Nevertheless, since we want this Guidebook to be as comprehensive as possible, we have given market values of all specimens for which adequate figures are available — that is, all complete sets that are over a year old. And here, as in other areas, we have made some improvements in our technique of listings.

In previous editions, we expressed market value as a single number — and some readers commented that this could be misleading. For the market value of a specimen can change drastically every time a transaction takes place. One day a man might buy a medal for $50, and the very next day he might be approached by someone with a great personal interest in the medal who is willing to pay $70 for it. Or the man might travel to a different city — one where the demand for his medal is greater because there are more collectors — and receive an even higher price for his specimen. Or there could be a sudden change in the economic conditions of his area — and this too would affect the market value of his medal.

For these reasons and others as well, we are now listing a range of current market values for each item valued. Thus, if the range given for an item is $250-$300, this means that the current market value of that item might be any price between those two figures. Depending on where and when it is sold, and who it is sold to, the specimen might fetch $250, or $280, or $300.

Yet, of course, even the range is not a sure guide. Tomorrow a specimen valued at $250-$300 could change hands for $350! For market conditions are always changing. There is, quite simply, no infallible way of listing current market value.

In the long run, serious collecting is probably a wiser and more rewarding pursuit than speculating about current market values. By choosing the works you would like to keep — for your own pleasure and for that of your descendants — you guarantee your future happiness.

The author solicits correspondence concerning actual transactions from readers with respect to sales & purchases so that they can be used as a guide to values in the next edition.

THE FRANKLIN MINT

The Franklin Mint, whose principal minting facilities are located at Franklin Center, Pa., is the world's largest private mint, and the only private mint in the United States currently authorized to strike official monetary coins for foreign governments.

Founded in 1965, the Franklin Mint began international expansion in 1969. The parent company, Franklin Mint Corporation, now owns and operates affiliates and subsidiaries in 12 foreign countries: Franklin Mint Pty., Ltd., Australia; Le Medaillier Franklin, S.A., Belgium; The Franklin Mint, Canada, Ltd.; Franklin Mint A/S, Denmark; Franklin Mint Ltd., England; Le Medaillier, S.A., France; Franklin Mint GmbH, Germany; Franklin Mint Italiana, SpA, Italy; Franklin Mint Co., Ltd., Japan; Franklin Mint de Mexico Tesoros Numismaticos, SA de CV, Mexico; Franklin Mint Nederland BV, Netherlands, and Franklin Mint AB, Sweden.

The growth and development of The Franklin Mint's reputation for producing the finest quality medallic art is reflected in the growth of its list of distinguished customers. Limited edition commemoratives have been designed and minted for the American Numismatic Association, the Bicentennial Council of the Thirteen Original States, the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, the Honor America Committee, the International Geographical Union, the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, La Scala Theatrical Museum of Milan, Italy, Independence Hall Association, the Presidential Inaugural Committee, the United Nations and the White House Historical Association.

Franklin Mint issues have a wide appeal for their beauty, quality and artistic, historical and educational value, with particular emphasis on cultural and art issues. The wide range of collectibles have included coins, medals, ingots, collectors' plates in silver, crystal, stained glass and porcelain, spoons in silver and pewter, silver, bronze and pewter sculptures, deluxe leather-bound books, crystal cameos, fine art prints and etchings, and medallic and philatelic first day covers.

Some of the world's finest artists have been introduced to the medium of medallic art by the Pennsylvania-based mint. Franklin Mint programs have featured original art created by such masters as Norman Rockwell, Charles Parks, Bernard Buffet, Isa Barnett, Henry Moore, Roger Bertrand Baron, Abram Belskie, Steven Dohanos, Andrew Wyeth, James Wyeth, Pablo Picasso, Gilroy Roberts, Gordon Phillips, and a number of talented native Indian artists.

The Franklin Mint has also produced official monetary coinage for the governments of the Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, the British Virgin Islands, Cook Islands, Jamaica, Panama, Papua New Guinea, the Philippines, Malta, Malaysia, the Netherlands Antilles, and Trinidad and Tobago.

THE EDITOR

CHESTER L. KRAUSE: Distinguished numismatic publisher and editor. Chester Krause pioneered the publication of a newspaper in the numismatic field when he introduced Numismatic News as a monthly tabloid in 1952. The hobby's first-ever newspaper is now a weekly enjoying a circulation of 50,000. A world traveler in search of news and features in the numismatic field, he has visited most important numismatic countries in Europe and Asia, Latin and South America in the past 15 years. Generally recognized as a top authority in the coin and paper money fields, he is well known in the nation's capital, where his influence and reputation in government circles have benefited the hobby through the adoption of more practical governmental policies. He was influential in the 1968 restoration of mintmarks to United States coins, and in the 1973 and 1974 relaxation and ending of gold import restrictions.

Mr. Krause has continued his pioneering efforts in other publishing ventures. He began COINS Magazine (monthly circulation 115,000) in 1961; Coin Prices in 1967; Old Cars in 1971; World Coin News in 1974 — all healthy and growing. He introduced and coedited a number of standard numismatic reference books, including Standard Catalog of World Coins in 1972; Guidebook to Franklin Mint Issues in 1974 and Standard Catalog of World Paper Money, in 1975. He also publishes other books on a variety of other hobby subjects.

KRAUSE PUBLICATIONS

Krause Publications is a corporation whose inception dates back to the October 1952 inaugural issue of Numismatic News. Through the years, its operations have broadened in scope to the point that it is now an organization of more than 70 people producing four periodicals and four major catalogs for coin collectors, plus a fifth periodical for old car enthusiasts, serving over 400,000 hobbyists.

NUMISMATIC NEWS

The cornerstone of Krause Publications, Numismatic News, was first released as a monthly tabloid format newspaper under the date Oct. 13, 1952. In the beginning, it was primarily a shoppers guide type publication. It has been a weekly since January 1969, and aims at serving the broad interests of the U.S. coin collecting fraternity. The present circulation is approximately 50,000; the subscription price is $7.50 per year.

WORLD COIN NEWS

The newest Krause Publications periodical, World Coin News, was launched as a quarterly tabloid newspaper in February 1974. Due to its popularity, the frequency increased to a monthly in August of 1974 and in May 1976 it began appearing on a weekly schedule. World Coin News is a specialized publication which appeals to collectors of world coins. It enjoys a current circulation of approximately 15,000; the subscription price is $8.00 per year.

OLD CARS

Entry into a new, non-numismatic publishing field was gained with the publication of the first issue of the tabloid newspaper, Old Cars, in September 1971. Identified throughout the country as the news and marketplace for the old car hobby, Old Cars was launched as a monthly, switched to a twice-monthly in July 1973, and upgraded to an every other week schedule in January 1975. Old Cars circulation is now near 90,000; the subscription price is $7.50 per year.

COINS MAGAZINE

Nearly 21 years old, Coins has been a member of the Krause coin periodical family since October 1961. Published monthly, it has been appearing under the Coins label since January 1972. Designed as a general interest feature magazine, Coins primary circulation has always been on the nation's newsstands. The monthly newsstand distribution is 85,000. Nearly 30,000 additional copies are distributed to regular subscribers and, secondarily, through coin shop sales. The subscription price is $6.00 per year.

COIN PRICES

Appearing six times a year on an every other month frequency, Coin Prices is the only standard guide to current values for all U.S. coins published in magazine form. First released in the fall of 1967 and initially published as a quarterly, it has been appearing every other month since July 1969. The current per issue distribution includes 105,000 copies on newsstands, more than 16,000 to subscribers and nearly 6,000 sales through coin shops. The subscription price is $4.00 per year.

STANDARD CATALOG OF WORLD COINS

Currently in its fourth edition, which was released this past March, this work has been dubbed the "telephone book" of coin collecting. It chronicles the date by date histories of the coinages of more than 687 coin issuing countries, states, provinces and cities, with coverage generally commencing at the close of the 18th century. A 1600 page volume, it features over 31,000 photographs and 65,000 coins listed by date, complete with valuations in several grades of preservation. Compiled internally, with the assistance of more than 350 outside contributors, it is priced at $19.50 per copy.

STANDARD CATALOG OF WORLD PAPER MONEY

The companion volume to the Standard Catalog of World Coins, this work provides similar coverage of world paper money issues from 1850 to the present. Another massive volume, it numbers 704 pages, featuring over 5,000 original photographs and 23,000 note listings complete with valuations. Authored by Albert Pick of Munich, West Germany, this book represents a cooperative publishing venture with Battenberg Verlag of Munich. The present second edition was published in May 1977 and is priced at $17.50 per copy.

STANDARD GUIDE TO U.S. COIN AND PAPER MONEY VALUATIONS

Krause Publications newest product, this pocketbook was unveiled in January 1976 as a product for distribution on the nation's newsstands. Presenting both retail and wholesale coin valuations, the 196 page handbook provides all the essential information required to intelligently buy or sell U.S. coins and paper money. It is aimed primarily at fulfilling the needs of beginning, novice and occasional collectors, providing reliable side by side price information. It is available at $1.50 per copy.

OTHER BOOKS AND PERIODICALS

From time to time over the past 15 years, the Krause family has included several other periodicals and several dozen book titles. Currently in final stages of revision is a new edition of a popular former title, "Coins — Questions and Answers."

EDGEMARKING AND HALLMARKING

Until 1968, most medals and tokens struck at The Franklin Mint had either plain or reeded edges. Commemorative society issues, certain series and individual specimens struck in limited edition, also included serial numbers. The first edition of The Franklin Mint Version of The Thomason Medallic Bible, issued during 1967-69, was also edge lettered with the title of the series, the metal content and the quality. Most gaming tokens struck by The Franklin Mint during 1965-69 used distinctive edge patterns of alternating blank and reeded segments.

On January 15, 1968 The Franklin Mint began hallmarking its proof quality medals. This method of attesting quality and integrity originated in 14th century England, when the London Guild of Goldsmiths first tested and marked objects made of precious metals as an assurance of their purity. The basic style of hallmark used on proof quality Franklin Mint medals struck in precious metal with a serial number is:

STERLING    0045

A proof-like medal with edgemarking can be readily distinguished from a proof by the fact that it lacks the  of the proof hallmark.

In 1973, The Franklin Mint edgemarking was further refined, so that all markings were uniform. Proof specimens of Franklin Mint medals bear a hallmark similar to the following:

STERLING

The elements of this hallmark include the metal content, copyright symbol, mintmark, year of issue and  signifying proof status. If a serial number is included, it is separated from the remainder of the hallmark by a blank space. In some instances, the title of the series or other identification may also appear on the edge. The material mark will vary, of course, depending upon the metal content. Some medals and ingots may also include the weight in grains.

Proof-like and mint quality medals usually bear edgemarkings but lack the  found on the hallmark proof edition. Coin of the Realm does not bear edge-markings but has plain or reeded edges normal to these specimens.

COIN OF THE REALM

This section includes official monetary coins struck by The Franklin Mint under authorization of various foreign governments. Coin of the realm issues often depict — or commemorate — people, places and events from the issuing country's history. Native vegetation and wildlife are also frequently portrayed. Generally, proof coins are struck for distribution to collectors, while non-proof coins are meant to circulate within the issuing country. In many cases, specimen sets of non-proof coins are also made available to collectors.

BAHAMAS

Each year since 1970, 9 coin proof sets and 9 coin uncirculated specimen sets have been made available. Since 1971, the $2 coin has been issued separately to mark Flamingo Day. Since 1973, the $10 coin has been issued separately to commemorate the Bahamas' independence on July 10, 1973 and its annual anniversary. The $5 coin has also been issued separately.

A number of design changes have taken place on the obverse of the coins. In 1970, the portrait of Queen Elizabeth II appeared with the inscription "Bahamas Islands". In 1971, to denote its commonwealth status, the inscription was changed to "Commonwealth of the Bahamas Islands". The 1972 and 1973 obverse coinage designs were identical to 1971.

The 1974 coinage was the first set of coinage issued by the Bahamas as an independent sovereign nation. In celebration, all 9 of the coins minted for circulation were redesigned. The "year" which had appeared on the reverse was relocated to the obverse beneath the Bahamas coat of arms. The lettering of the denomination on the reverses was also changed. The coat of arms replaced the coinage portrait of the Queen. The $5 coin was changed completely and in the place of the coat of arms, the Bahamas National Flag was depicted. The $10 commemorative coin has had the same design since it was first issued in 1973.

The Bahamas became an independent nation on July 10, 1973. To commemorate the event, a sterling silver $10 coin and a $50 gold coin was issued. Because of the ban on gold ownership then in effect, U.S. citizens were not able to buy the gold coin. The coin was struck by John Pinches Ltd. of London, The Franklin Mint's British affiliate and was sold almost entirely in England, Canada and the Bahamas.

BARBADOS

In 1973, Barbados issued its first national coinage in its 350-year history. The obverse of each of the 8 coins bear designs evoking historic landmarks and traditional symbols of Barbados. The obverse designs have remained unchanged from 1973 through 1976.

The reverse of each coin portrays the Barbados Coat of Arms. In commemoration of the 10th anniversary of Barbados' independence, the 1976 coinage bears the anniversary dates 1966-1976 at the sides of the Coat of Arms on the reverse of the coins. In addition, the $10 coin bears the word "Independence" above the Coat of Arms.

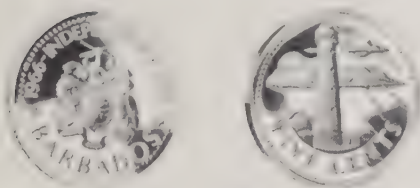

Each year 8-coin proof sets and 8-coin uncirculated specimen sets have been made available. Since 1974, individual sterling silver proofs of the $10 coin were made available. A $100 gold coin was issued in 1975.

BELIZE

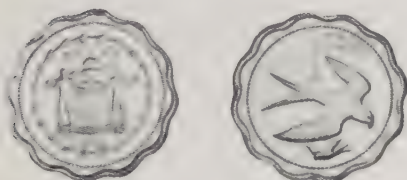

In 1974, for the first time in its history, Belize (the Central American nation which was formerly known as British Honduras) issued its all-new national coinage. To honor this occasion, a special collector's proof set was issued in which each of the 8 coins in the set was minted in sterling silver. This special collector's set was also issued in 1975 and 1976. In addition, 8-coin proof sets without silver, and 8-coin uncirculated specimen sets, without silver, were issued in 1974, 1975 and 1976.

The coins issued after 1974 differ from the 1974 issues in 2 significant respects: (1) the 5 post-1974 coins ranging in value from 1¢ to 50¢ show the denomination in Arabic numerals, rather than in words only, and (2) the post-1974 1¢ coin has scalloped edges, whereas the 1974 1¢ coin was round.

A $100 gold coin was issued in 1975 and 1976.

The $100 gold coin was first issued in 1975. It is the first gold coin in Belize's history and the highest denomination coin ever minted for circulation in Belize. The reverse, sculptured by Michael Rizzeloo, bears the National Coat of Arms of Belize. This is the same reverse design for the 1975 and 1976 coins.

The obverse of the 1975 coin, sculptured by Vincent Miller, depicts the National Assembly Building in Belmopan, Belize, against a background of Mayan symbols. The 1976 obverse design features a fascinating design based upon ancient Mayan symbols.

BERMUDA

In 1975, Bermuda issued a $100 gold coin, and a $25 coin without gold. The gold coin is the highest denomination coin ever issued by Bermuda, and the first $100 gold coin in its history. The coins commemorate the Royal Visit to Bermuda in 1975 by Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. Both coins were also issued in medallic first day covers.

Both coins bear the same obverse and reverse designs. The official coinage portrait of the Queen, sculptured by Arnold Machin, appears on the obverse. The reverse, sculptured by Vincent Miller, bears the Royal Cyphers of the Queen and Prince Philip, together with the Parliamentary Mace of Bermuda.

BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS

In 1973, for the first time in its history, the British Virgin Islands issued its own official coinage, consisting of 6 coins. The coinage portrait of Queen Elizabeth II, sculptured by Arnold Machin, appears on the obverse of each coin. The reverse designs sculptured by Gilroy Roberts, portray the fascinating birds of the Islands. The obverse and reverse designs of the coins, ranging in denomination from 1¢ to $1, have remained unchanged from 1973 through 1976.

Each year 6-coin proof sets and 6-coin uncirculated specimen sets have been made available. In 1973, a special set of 6 first day covers containing the 6 proof coins, and special stamps was also made available. The $100 gold coin, first issued in 1975, was issued in 1976 with a new reverse design.

100 DOLLARS
900, 1000 Fine Gold
24mm, 7.10 Grams

This coin was first issued in 1975. It is the highest denomination coin ever minted for circulation in the Islands. The obverse, sculptured by Arnold Machin, bears the official coinage portrait of Queen Elizabeth II. This is the same obverse design for the 1975 and 1976 coins.

The reverse of the 1975 coin, sculptured by Gilroy Roberts, depicts the Royal Tern, one of the Island's most beautiful birds. The 1976 coin was issued to commemorate the 50th Birthday of H.M. Queen Elizabeth II, and was the first gold coin issued anywhere in the world to honor Her Majesty's 50th Birthday. The 1976 reverse design combines the Islands' Coat of Arms, the Royal Cypher of H.M. Queen Elizabeth II and the legend 50th Birthday Celebration.

COOK ISLANDS

The designs appearing on the reverse of the coins ranging in denomination from 1 cent to 50 cents depict the exotic vegetation and wildlife of the Cook Islands. The design of the 1-dollar coin is of the ancient god TANGOROA — once worshipped as the god of creation, the ocean and navigation. James Bery sculptured all of these designs. The coinage portrait of Queen Elizabeth II, sculptured by Arnold Machin, appears on the obverse of each coin.

In 1975, 7-coin proof sets and 7-coin uncirculated specimen sets were made available. The 1976 8-coin sets included the new $5 coin. The Cook Islands also issued a 100-dollar gold coin, in 1975 & 1976.

5 DOLLARS 42mm

Cook Islands National Wildlife Conservative Day was celebrated on November 15, 1976. The Government officially designated this day as a national holiday, in honor of the establishment of a magnificent wildlife sanctuary in the Cook Islands. The sanctuary occupies the entire island of Manuae — a paradise for birds, animals and exotic tropical plants and flowers. To honor this important occasion, moreover, the Government of the Cook Islands authorized the minting of a new denomination five-dollar coin, which was issued as part of the Proof Sets in its 1976 circulating coinage. And this coin — which is minted in .500 fine silver — is the largest of the Cook Islands' 1976 coins, measuring 42mm in diameter.

100 DOLLARS 900 1000 Fine Gold. 26mm, 9.60 Grams

The 1975 $100 gold coin was issued to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the completion of Captain James Cook's voyage of discovery to the Cook Islands in the South Pacific. The reverse depicts Captain Cook's ship Resolution along with portraits of Captain Cook himself and his monarch, King George III of Great Britain. The 1976 $100 gold coin depicts Benjamin Franklin and Captain James Cook and was issued in honor of America's Bicentennial. This is the first gold coin ever to bear a portrait of Benjamin Franklin. The coin's design was inspired by a wartime drama involving the return of Captain Cook's ship, the Resolution, from Cook's final voyage of discovery that concluded at the height of the American Revolution. Franklin personally guaranteed the ship's safe passage, by addressing a letter to all American ship commanders.

The official coinage portrait of H.M. Queen Elizabeth II appearing on the obverse of both coins is by Arnold Machin. James Berry sculptured both reverse designs.

GUYANA

In 1976, the nation of Guyana (formerly British Guiana) celebrated its 10th anniversary of independence. To honor this occasion, the government authorized redesign of the nation's monetary coins. The 1976 coinage includes 8 coins in denominations from 1¢ to $10. The 8-coin proof sets contain all denominations, with the 2 highest denomination coins minted in silver, and both redesigned to honor heroes of Guyana's achievement of independence. The 6-coin proof sets containing coin denominations from 1¢ to $1 have been redesigned to portray exotic wild animals native to country.

The Guyana $100 gold coin, the nation's first, was issued to commemorate the legend of Eldorado — the Golden Man.

JAMAICA

The Franklin Mint has struck the official monetary coinage of Jamaica since 1970. In 1970, 6-coin sets (1 cent through 1 dollar) in proof and uncirculated specimens were made available. The 5-dollar coin was introduced in 1971, and 6-coin (without 5-dollar coin) 7-coin sets in proof and circulated specimens were made available from 1971-1973. In 1974, the 10-dollar commemorative coin was introduced and 8-coin sets in proof and uncirculated specimens were made available in 1974 and 1975. Individual sterling silver proofs of the 10-dollar coin were made available in 1974 and 1975. Coin designs on the 1 cent to 1 dollar coins have not changed from 1970-1975. The 5-dollar coin, introduced in 1971, carried a full-face portrait of Norman W. Manley, Jamaica's first premier. This was redesigned to a profile portrait in 1972, and remains the same through 1975. The Sir Henry Morgan 10-dollar coin in 1974 was the first in the "Heroes of the Sea" series of annual 10-dollar coins. In 1975, Christopher Columbus and his ship "Nina" appear on the coin.

The obverse designs on the 1-cent to 25-cent coins, sculptured by Christopher Ironside depict the flora and fauna of Jamaica. Paul Vincze sculptured the design on the 1-dollar coin featuring Sir Alexander Bustamante, Jamaica's First Prime Minister. The Jamaican Coat of Arms which appears on the reverse of each coin, was sculptured by Philip Nathan.

MALAYSIA

The 1976 200 Ringgit gold coin was made available to collectors in 1976. This is the first year of issue for this coin. This 14-sided coin was designed as a symbol of Malaysian unity, and as such honors the 14 official flags of the Federation of Malaysia. It is the world's first 14-sided coin.

The face of the coin bears an original portrait of Tun Abdul Razak, national hero and a founding father of the Malaysian Federation, together with a design of the 14 official flags. The reverse includes both the coin denomination and the national coat of arms.

In addition to the 200 Ringgit gold coin, the Government issued two other coins as part of its Third Malaysian Plan Commemoratives, a 1 Ringgit and a 10 Ringgit coin. All of these commemoratives are 14-sided coins. These later two proof coins were minted at The Franklin Mint, and the entire mintage was shipped to Malaysia. The circulation coins for the these two commemoratives were struck in Malaysia.

Also, in Commemoration of the 25th Anniversary of the Employees Provident Fund, three round coins were issued. The Two Hundred-Fifty Ringgit, the One Ringgit and the Twenty-Five Ringgit coins. The entire proof mintage was shipped to Malaysia; the circulation coins were struck in Malaysia.

MALTA

Malta is Europe's newest republic. The 1976 proof sets are the first proof sets of Maltese coinage ever minted in the U.S. Each of the 9 coins bears a distinctive design that reflects the 4,500-year history of this country. These coin designs provide an historic profile of Malta that dates back to the beginning of recorded time.

NETHERLANDS ANTILLES

The Netherlands Antilles, also known as the Dutch West Indies, consists of 6 islands — Aruba, Bonaire, Curacao, Saba, St. Eustatius and St. Maarten. These 2 coins commemorate the Bicentennial of American Independence, and the fact that the Dutch West Indies was the first to formally honor the U.S. flag flying from the American naval vessel, the Andrew Doria, in 1776.

This is the first gold coin ever issued by the Netherlands Antilles. The reverse design bears an original work of art portraying the Andrew Doria between two flags — the flag of the Netherlands and the "Grand Union", America's first flag of independence. The obverse of the coins bears the official portrait of H.M. Queen Juliana of the Kingdom of the Netherlands, reflecting the status of the Netherlands Antilles as an autonomous government within the Kingdom.

This was the first gold coin to bear the portrait of Queen Juliana, and the first eight-sided gold coin ever issued by any country outside the U.S. Because of the importance of this commemoration, a sterling silver 25-Guilder coin bearing the same design as the 200-Guilder gold coin was issued. The sterling silver coin is round rather than octagonal in shape, measures 45mm in diameter, and weighs 649 grains. Matched sets, combining a proof of the 200-Guilder gold and a proof of the 25-Guilder silver coin, were also made available.

PANAMA

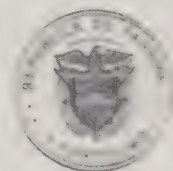

In 1975 and 1976 8 and 9-coin proof sets were made available. The 9-coin proof sets include all denominations from 1 centesimo to 20 Balboas. The 3 highest denominations, the 1, 5, and 20 Balboas coins are minted in sterling silver. The 8-coin proof sets include all denominations from 1 centesimo to 5 Balboas. In 1975, 8-coin uncirculated specimen sets (without silver) and individual sterling silver proofs of the 20-Balboas coin were made available. In 1976, 2-coin proof sets consisting of the 20 Balboas and 2½ centesimos coin, and the 1 Balboa proof coin were sold. The 1976 uncirculated specimen sets were available only in Panama. The following coins were also issued in 1976: the 100 Balboas gold coin, the 150 Balboas platinum coin, and the 500 Balboas gold coin.

The Franklin Mint also struck the 1970 5-Balboas coin commemorating the 11th Central American and Caribbean Games. This was the first sterling silver coin ever issued by Panama, and the first to commemorate these games. Gilroy Roberts sculptured both sides of this coin.

From 1971-1975, the 20-Balboas sterling silver coin was made available in proof and uncirculated specimens. The obverse portrait of Simon Bolivar was sculptured by Harold Faulkner, and the Panama Coat of Arms on the reverse was sculptured by Gilroy Roberts. In 1971, the obverse bore the inscription "150 Aniversario de La Independencia — Centroamericana". This was changed in 1972 to the inscription which now appears "Simon Bolivar 1783-1830". At the time of its issue, this was the largest coin minted for circulation in the Western Hemisphere.

100 BALBOAS
900/1000 Fine Gold,
26mm, 8.16 Grams

The 1975 gold coin was the first coin of any nation minted in the U.S. since 1933 that could be legally owned by American citizens. This coin was the first gold coin ever issued by Panama, and it was also the first gold coin ever minted by The Franklin Mint. The coin commemorates the 500th anniversary of the birth of Vasco Nunez de Balboa, the great explorer whose expedition across Panama led to his discovery of the Pacific Ocean.

The 1976 coin carries the same obverse portrait of Balboa and the same coat of arms as the 1975 coin. The obverse portrait was sculptured by James Ferrell, the reverse was sculptured by Gilroy Roberts.

150 BALBOAS
Platinum, 26mm
9.30 Grams

This is the first platinum circulating coin ever minted in the United States. It is also the first coin in the history of Panama to bear the denomination of 150 Balboas. It was issued to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the first Pan-American Congress, held in Panama City in 1826. And in Summer of 1976, exactly 150 years after the first meeting, representatives of many South American and Central American nations convened in Panama City to reaffirm the principles of inter-American unity established at that first Pan-American Congress.

The obverse design bears a new and original design honoring the leader of the first Pan-American Congress, Simon Bolivar. The coin's reverse carries the official Coat of Arms of the Republic of Panama.

500 BALBOAS
900/1000 Fine Gold,
45mm, 41.7 Grams

This coin is the largest and heaviest gold coin in the history of Panama. It is also the nation's largest gold coin. The coin was issued in 1975 and in 1976 and carries the same obverse and reverse designs. The face of the coin portrays the great explorer Vasco Nunez de Balboa, discoverer of the Pacific Ocean and the first Governor of the Isthmus of Panama.

PAPUA NEW GUINEA

In 1975 Papua New Guinea became an independent nation and issued its first coinage. The designs on the coins portray the nation's wildlife and symbols of the nation's sovereignty. First-day-of-issue cachets bearing new stamps and the proofs of the 8 coins were issued in 1975. In 1975 and again in 1976, 8-coin proof sets, 8-coin uncirculated specimen sets and individual sterling proofs of the 10 Kina coin were made available. The designs of the 8 coins were identical in both years. The 100 Kina gold coin was issued in 1975, and again in 1976 with a different design.

100 KINAS
900/100 Fine Gold,
27mm, 9.57 Grams

The 100-Kina gold coin issued in 1975 was the first gold coin ever issued by Papua New Guinea and commemorated the attainment of independence on September 16, 1975. The obverse of the 1975 coin bears a portrait of the nation's first Prime Minister, the Honourable Michael Somare. The reverse depicts the Bird of Paradise — the national symbol of Papua New Guinea — together with the 5 stars of the Southern Cross.

The 1976 coin was the first modern monetary gold coin with a center hole, and commemorates the first anniversary of Papua New Guinea's independence. The obverse design includes both the Bird of Paradise national symbol and, around the center hole, a design of the traditional string of coins (when coins with center holes were strung on sticks or strings). The reverse carries the official crest of the Bank of Papua New Guinea.

PHILIPPINES

The 1975 Philippines coinage proof sets were the first minted for collectors since 1908. The 8 coins bear new designs, paying tribute to great men and women of Philippine history and to the nation's New Society. Two new coin denominations (50-pisos, and 5-pisos), and 2 new coin shapes (the square 1-sentimo and the scalloped 5-sentimos) were introduced for the first time in 1975.

Eight-coin proof sets were made available, in addition to individual sterling silver proofs of the 50-piso coin. Uncirculated specimen sets were made available only to collectors in the Philippines.

TRINIDAD & TOBAGO

The Franklin Mint has struck the official monetary coinage of Trinidad and Tobago since 1971. In 1971, 5-coin (without 5-dollar coin) and 7-coin proof sets were issued. To commemorate the 10th anniversary of independence in 1972, a new 10-dollar coin was minted. Seven-coin (without 10-dollar coin), 8-coin proof sets and 8-coin uncirculated specimen sets were made available in 1972 and 1973. Eight-coin proof sets and 8-coin uncirculated specimen sets were made available in 1974-1976. Individual sterling silver proofs of the 5-dollar coin, and 10-dollar coin have been made available since 1971 and 1972 respectively.

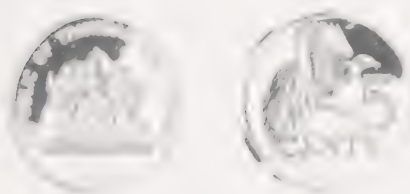

The redesign of the nation's coinage begun in 1971, was completed in 1974.

Because of its recent issue, no market value has been established for the 1976 $10 coin.

100 DOLLARS
500/1000 Fine Gold,
26.16mm, 6.21 Grams

The first gold coin ever to be issued by this nation was minted in 1976 and proclaimed the new status of Trinidad and Tobago as a Republic. The obverse bears a sculptured study of two Scarlet Ibises in flight, together with the national motto: "Together we aspire ... together we achieve." The Scarlet Ibis is native to that nation and is that nation's national bird. The reverse design is the same as the other coin denominations.

TUNISIA

The 10 coins struck for the Republic of Tunisia in 1969 bear designs related to that country's 3,000-year history. Each coin has a legal tender value of 1 Dinar. Proof Sets of these coins were first minted in Italy and distributed by Numismatica Italiana through its worldwide network of banks. The Franklin Mint was authorized to strike up to 20,000 sets for American collectors — but actually distributed only 15,202 complete sets. By Tunisian government decree, the worldwide issue of Proof Sets containing all ten coins is limited to a maximum of 40,000 complete sets.

MEDALLIC ISSUES

Medals are collected for their beauty, for their historical significance and for their commemorative value. Through medals, great works of art — the fleeting moments of history — people, places and things — are all preserved in miniature. Nowhere else is so much variety available to the numismatist. One may collect medals in series, by topical subjects or simply what one likes and enjoys. More than any other field of numismatics, a medallic collection reflects the taste, interests and perception of its owner. To that end, The Franklin Mint has produced medals of many kinds, enabling a collection to be built in almost any form one may desire.

AMERICA IN SPACE

The original series of 24 medals was minted exclusively for the men and women in the aerospace industry and established Franklin Mint collectors. A distinguished board of advisers, who made space history, chose the subjects to be honored. In 1973, an additional 12 medals were made available to collectors of the first 24 medals.

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

Each of the 8 dual-finish medals in this collection was inspired by a single line from the first stanza of 'America the Beautiful'. This is a new medallic form combining the proof finish, consisting of a finely frosted design and a mirror-like background, with the Antique finish, with boldness of design and sharply defined relief. The Antique/Proof medal was created especially for this collection, the first of its kind ever minted anywhere in the world. Each medal is serially numbered, and contains 1,000 grains of sterling silver.

AMERICAN ART TREASURES

A collection of 100 medals honoring the outstanding works created by American artists from our nation's beginnings to the present day. This collection is the first comprehensive series of fine art medals ever issued to honor the works created by American artists during the past 200 years. The Curators and Art Historians of the National Collection of Fine Arts, Washington, D.C. have helped select the works to be honored in this collection. The National Collection is the world's largest and most comprehensive collection of American art.

The face of each medal captures the essence of the art treasure, while the reverse identifies the artist, the work and the date of its creation. The complete collection of 100 medals will contain more than eight troy pounds of solid sterling silver.

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

The American Numismatic Association was organized in 1891. Among the objects of this national organization are the encouragement and promotion "of numismatics by the acquirement and study of coins, paper money, medals and media of exchange"; the cultivation of "fraternal relations among collectors and students"; and efforts "to encourage and assist new collectors, and to foster the interest of youth in the subject." From a small beginning, the American Numismatic Association has grown until it presently has over 30,000 members. Annual conventions are held which attract an attendance of more than 15,000 collectors. Each year, The Franklin Mint honors the ANA by distributing a special medal to those who attend the annual convention banquet. The Young Numismatists, sponsored by the ANA, has also received the support of The Franklin Mint.

AMERICAN VICTORIES SERIES

The National Executive Committee of the American Legion authorized this series of 24 medals to pay tribute to American military victories and as a memorial to the men who earned them. The obverse of each medal depicts American forces in action, while the reverse carries a tactical map of the battle. Proof medals were only available to members of the American Legion.

APOLLO PROJECT

A set of 20 medals which depict each of the various stages of the Apollo moon mission were minted in 1970. A total of 4967 sets were issued containing silver that was thought to have been carried around the moon. After learning this to be incorrect, The Franklin Mint requested the subscribers to return their medals for destruction. The replacement medals were struck from a special lot of silver containing metal that was personally carried by the astronauts around the moon. A total of 3698 of the original sets have been returned for replacement. A small horizontal line was added above the mintmark to distinguish the replacement medals from the originals.

BICENTENNIAL DAY COMMEMORATIVE

The Bicentennial Day Commission, organized under the auspices of the Bicentennial authorities of both the City of Philadelphia and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania issued this commemorative in honor of the 4th of July, 1976, the 200th anniversary of the declaration of American independence. The face of the medal portrays the historic 4th of July, 1776 ceremony. The reverse depicts the signing of the declaration on July 4th, 1776. Also included is the Bicentennial Declaration of the People of the U.S.A. It bears the signatures of the President and Vice President, the President's Cabinet, the 9 Supreme Court Justices, all the members of the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives, and the Governors of all 50 states.

Note: Because of its recent issue, no market value has been established for this commemorative.

BICENTENNIAL MEDAL

This was The Franklin Mint's own medallic tribute to our country's 200th Anniversary. The obverse design, sculptured by Gilroy Roberts, features 30 different sculptured portraits honoring Americans from every part of the country and every period of American history who achieved importance in the last 200 years. The reverse design contains the preamble to the Constitution of the U.S. Matched sets, one silver and one bronze medal, were edgemarked with the same serial number — and these were the only specimens to be serially numbered.

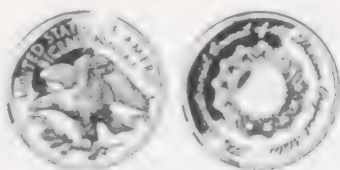

Issued: 1975-1976	Mintage*	Issue Price	Market Value

BIG GAME MEDALS

The East African Wild Life Society commissioned this series of 20 medals that portrays African big game animals in danger of extinction. Sculptor Anthony Jones made a 1600 mile trek through Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda so that he might study and accurately sketch the animals at first hand. Bronze proof-like specimens are still available at Franklin Mint Gift Shops.

CALENDAR/ART MEDALS

Beginning in 1972, these medals have included an original work of art whose design includes a calendar for the year. Both sides of the medal are sculptured in high relief. The Calendar/Art medal for 1977 includes, on one side, a complete 1977 calendar, encircled by a border symbolizing man's journey through life. The other side features a portrait of Janus — the Roman diety of beginnings and endings.

CALL TO BATTLE — APRIL 1775

This was The Franklin Mint's Bicentennial tribute to the day America's War for Independence began. The face of the medal honors the midnight ride of Paul Revere, which began on the evening of April 18, 1775. The reverse commemorates the Battle of Concord Bridge, which began the very next day — April 19, 1775 — and marked the actual beginning of the American Revolution. This medal was made available exclusively to Franklin Mint Collectors Society Members.

COLLECTORS SOCIETY ISSUES

The Franklin Mint Collectors Society was organized in the Fall of 1970. It is the largest organization of collectors of limited editions in existence today. Each member receives a membership card which contains a special medal featuring the emblem of the Collectors Society and the date of the current membership year. This section also includes medals created to commemorate vacation trips presented to participating Society Members.

EGYPTIAN TREASURES

In 1922 the beautiful treasures buried in the tomb of the Pharaoh Tutankhamen more than 3,000 years ago were discovered. In November 1976, at the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C., many of these treasures were on special display in a public exhibition — the first in a series of exhibitions held in major art museums throughout the U.S., arranged through the courtesy of the Egyptian Museum, Egypt's national museum. This collection of 36 medals is being issued in tribute to Egypt's ancient art heritage, in connection with the public art exhibition. Each of the 36 medals depicts one of the golden treasures created for the Pharaoh, and these works of art are among the most beautiful and most important of these treasures. The reverse bears the title of the work, together with the symbol of the Egyptian Museum.

An unusual new medallic technique has been employed in the creation of these medals. The process, known as sculpture vignetting, sets 24KT gold against sterling silver. Each of these medals is minted in sterling silver, then the sculptured image is highlighted in 24KT gold.

NOTE: The sterling silver proof specimens of the Presidential Debate Eyewitness medal was issued with an error on the reverse. The reverse incorrectly indicates that the date of the first debate was September 21, instead of September 23, the correct date. Buyers of this medal had the option to retain the original error medal, exchange the error medal for a corrected medal or retain the error medal and also purchase the corrected medal. The final mintages are:

FIFTY-STATE BICENTENNIAL MEDALS

A nationwide art competition, with a total of $500,000 in prize money, was held to select the obverse designs of the 50 medals, the first-prize winner from each state. A separate panel of judges, composed of distinguished citizens of each state, was appointed in each state to choose the winning designs. There were more than 13,000 nation-wide entries in the contest. Each medal is a prize-winning work of art, and the complete collection reflects the special character of each of our United States. The reverse design of each medal was selected by The Bicentennial Commission of that state.

FRANKLIN'S GENIUS

This collection of 16 medals was the first comprehensive collection of medals ever minted to commemorate Benjamin Franklin's lifetime of achievement. Each medal focuses on a different aspect of Franklin's career, as determined in consultation with The Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, which has been selected by Congress as the site for the Benjamin Franklin National Memorial. This is the only edition of this collection that will ever be issued. It was reserved exclusively for Members of The Franklin Mint Collectors Society.

GALLERY OF GREAT AMERICANS

Each year, from 1970 through 1976, Great Americans have been chosen for enshrinement in 12 different categories — Statesmen & Patriots, Explorers & Pioneers, Inventors & Discoverers, Scientists & Physicians, Educators & Lawyers, Humanitarians & Social Leaders, Businessmen & Industrial Leaders, Writers & Poets, Artists & Composers, Actors & Entertainers, Athletes & Sports Heroes, and Military Heroes. The individuals honored in this collection are chosen by vote of the collectors themselves. Complete sets of these medals are on permanent display at the Gallery of Great Americans, which is part of The Franklin Mint Museum of Fine Art.

GARDINER'S ISLAND PATTERN TRIAL PROOF

Various issues are minted in trial and experimental striking to determine their finished appearance, to serve as samples, to solve technical problems or to test new alloys. They are generally not available to collectors. The trial pieces struck for Gardiner's Island are a notable exception since they were offered to collectors. Gilroy Roberts sculptured the medals.

All medals are 39mm, Proof

HEARTS ENTWINED PENDANT & CHOKER

The Hearts Entwined Pendant is an original design, created for The Franklin Mint by Herman deRoos, former designer of fine jewelry for the Royal Family of The Netherlands. The unusual design blends two hearts, as a symbol of love given and returned. The hearts are, in fact, entwined in such a way that each is an inseparable part of the other. The choker and pendant are open stock items available to the general public and to collectors who visit The Franklin Mint and The Franklin Mint Museum of Fine Art.

HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

This series of 50 medals portrays the great heroes and most significant events of America's fight for independence from 1761 to 1783. In 1970-1971 proofs in silver and bronze were minted for advance subscribers, and non proofs were issued under the sponsorship of the Pennsylvania Bicentennial Commission. In 1976, a special non-proof Bicentennial Edition was issued.

HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

This series of 200 medals provides a comprehensive history of the U.S. since the Declaration of Independence in 1776. Each medal recalls a different year by depicting the "event of the year" selected from those listed on its reverse. The events commemorated are all selected with the aid of an advisory board composed of experts in American History. Each platinum and sterling silver specimen is numbered on the edge.

IMPRESSIONISM MASTERPIECES

Le Medaillier, S.A., of Paris, The Franklin Mint's French affiliate, minted and issued this series of 50 medals. This collection commemorated the 100th anniversary of the first Impressionist exhibition and honors the 50 greatest works of Impressionist art. A distinguished international board of scholars and art historians has chosen the subjects to be honored. Each medal bears the mintmark of Le Medaillier, and the official government hallmark of the Republic of France.

INDIANS, AMERICAN, HISTORY

A series of 50 sterling silver medals, each portraying a single event from the history of the American Indian, both as our history books recorded it and as the Indian himself interprets it. Each medal is sculptured on both sides. The side portraying the Indian's viewpoint features original works of art created by a group of America's most prominent Indian artists. And many of these works use ancient tribal symbols to tell the Indian's story.

INDIAN TRIBAL SERIES

Each coin-medal in this continuing collection honors the history, culture and people of the tribe it represents. Each coin-medal is designed in close cooperation with the appropriate tribal leaders. Arrangements for this series are coordinated with Indian Tribal Series of Phoenix, Arizona, which reserves the first 5,500 specimens for its own subscribers.

For each coin-medal, there is a matching tribal history book written by a distinguished authority of the American Indian. Each book is individually hand-signed by a tribal leader and bears the same matching serial number as the coin-medal. The number of proof-quality coin-medals struck for any one tribe is limited to 15,000 specimens. Of this number, a maximum of 9,500 have been reserved exclusively for established Franklin Mint collectors.

MICHELANGELO'S GENIUS

The 500th anniversary of the birth of Michelangelo, the great Florentine sculptor and painter, was celebrated in 1975. In honor of his artistic genius, The Franklin Mint commissioned Piero Monassi of Italy to create a collection of 60 fine art medals depicting the works of Michelangelo. A distinguished international board of advisors chose the subjects to be honored. Separate editions have been offered to collectors outside the United States by The Franklin Mint's international affiliates.

MISCELLANEOUS PRIVATE ISSUES

Prior to 1970, various individual issues struck by The Franklin Mint for private sponsors were included in the "Special Private Issues" (SPI) category. Beginning in 1970, the "Special Commemorative Issues" (SCI) program was inaugurated which includes only issues of a commemorative nature selected by a board of advisors from among those struck for private sponsors. Other medals and promotional issues struck for private firms are included in "Miscellaneous Private Issues" (MPI). Most of these issues have not been offered frequently enough on the secondary market to establish market valuations.

MOUNTBATTEN HISTORY OF GREAT BRITAIN AND THE SEA

John Pinches (Medallists) Ltd. of London, England, The Franklin Mint's British affiliate, minted and issued this series of 100 medals to commemorate the 100 greatest men and events of British seafaring history. The series was issued under the patronage of Admiral of the Fleet The Lord Louis Mountbatten of Burma. A distinguished panel of scholars and naval historians has chosen the subjects to be honored. Philip Nathan is sculpting all the medals in this series. Each medal contains 600 grains of sterling silver.

NOBEL PRIZE VICTORY MEDAL

The Nobel Prize is the most significant and coveted award in all the world. All of the Nobel Prizes awarded during 1976 were won by Americans. This is the first time that citizens of one country have received all the Nobel Prizes awarded in a single year. Gilroy Roberts sculptured this original work of art. The face of the medal portrays all of the 7 winners in sculptured portraits; the reverse identifies the winners and their fields of achievement. Each medal contains 1,000 grains of sterling silver.

OLYMPIC GAMES HISTORY

The International Olympic Committee, the official organization that directs and coordinates all Olympic activities is issuing this collection of 50 medals in tribute to the Olympic spirit, and to the great individual heroes and heroines of the modern Olympics. The face of each medal portrays the significant event or outstanding performance that made Olympic history. The reverse of the medal describes the lasting significance of that event or performance, in the language of the host country. The collection includes both the Summer and Winter Olympics, from 1896 to 1976. The gold and sterling silver medals are serially numbered.

OPERA'S MOST BEAUTIFUL MOMENTS

In commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the world-famous La Scala Opera of Milan, Italy, La Scala Theatrical Museum is issuing this collection of 60 medals to honor the world's great operas. The Museum has chosen the subjects for the medals and is authenticating every detail of their design. The obverse depicts the scene exactly as it would be shown on the stage of La Scala. The reverse provides a sculptured portrait of the composer and identification of the scene, in the language in which the opera was written.

PATRIOTS HALL OF FAME

This series of 100 medals, in 5 annual series of 20, paid tribute to great patriots from important eras of American History. The men and women so enshrined were elected to this honor in public balloting conducted by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. A complete set of all 100 medals is on permanent display at Freedoms Foundation. The face of each medal bears a portrait of the honored patriot as he or she is best remembered by the American public. The symbol of the Freedoms Foundation, a study of George Washington at prayer at Valley Forge, appears on the reverse of each medal.

PRESIDENTIAL INAUGURAL MEDALS, 1973

The Inaugural Committee commissioned The Franklin Mint to strike the official 1973 Presidential Inaugural Medal. Official Inaugural Medals date from William McKinley's second inauguration in 1901. Forerunners of the medals were issued in 1893 and 1897 in the form of medallion badges. The official medals for 1973 were struck in two sizes, 70mm and 64mm, and in a variety of metals and finishes. Gilroy Roberts sculptured the jugate busts of Nixon and Agnew. A sterling silver plate bearing the same conjoined portraits was also issued. Each medal was serially numbered on the edge.

PRESIDENTIAL MEDALS — WHITE HOUSE HISTORICAL ASSOC.

The White House Historical Association (WHHA) is a non-profit, bipartisan association formed to help acquire original furnishings and works of art for the White House. Royalties from the sale of these medals were used by the WHHA for acquisitions. The entire series of medals has been sculptured by Gilroy Roberts, dean of American medallion sculptors. Each of the sculptures was reviewed and authenticated by Clement Conger, Curator of the White House. Each of the proof medals weighs 600 grains.

PRESIDENTIAL SERIES

The obverses of these regular size medals and mini-coins feature portraits of our Presidents as they appeared while holding the nation's highest office. The reverse of the regular size edition, issued in a variety of metals, sizes and finishes, contains a capsule biography. The Presidential Seal appears on the reverse of the mini-coin editions. The Shell Oil Co. promotion "Mr. President Game" combined the obverse Presidential portraits of the Presidential Series with a reverse bearing Shell's name, and the title of the game.

RAPHAEL'S MASTERPIECES

Among the old masters, Raphael stands out as probably the most beloved of all artists. For Raphael gave to the world a legacy of beauty rarely equaled in history. In commemoration of the 500th anniversary of Raphael's birth, this collection of 100 fine art medals is being issued. This is the first comprehensive medallic collection of the works of Raphael ever created anywhere in the world. Each medal is individually numbered and registered in the subscriber's name.

RENAISSANCE TREASURES

A collection of 100 fine art medals inspired by the greatest masterpieces of the Renaissance. These medals portray the greatest painting, sculpture and architecture produced during the centuries from 1300 to 1600. The masterpieces to be honored in this collection were selected with the assistance of a group of eminent art historians, including scholars associated with such leading art museums as: the Uffizi in Florence, the Vatican Museums in Rome, the Louvre in Paris, The Royal Museum of Fine Arts in Brussels and the Prado in Madrid.

The obverse of each medal depicts the work itself, while the reverse includes the name of the artist, the title of the work and the date of its creation.

ROBERTS BIRDS

The beauty and mystery of birds was both the theme and the inspiration for this series of 50 medals, issued in groups of 5, from 1970-1976. The series is named for Gilroy Roberts, the dean of America's medallic sculptors. The obverse portrays 2 or more birds of a species as they are actually seen in nature. The reverse is inscribed with Gilroy Roberts signature mark. Each medal contains 1,000 grains of sterling silver.

SHAKESPEARE MEDALS

The Royal Shakespeare Theatre of Stratford-upon-Avon, England issued this collection of 38 medals to commemorate the 350th anniversary of the first printed folio of Shakespeare's plays, in 1623. Each medal depicts the heart of a different play, the central statement of theme which gives the play its vitality and timelessness. The reverse design contains an appropriate quotation from the play. Philip Nathan, who sculptured these medals, visited Shakespeare's birthplace and discussed the plays at length with members of the Royal Shakespeare Theatre.

SOCIETE DE LA SCULPTURE DE MEDAILLES

The Societe de la Sculpture de Medailles was formed in 1972 to commission original masterpieces by the world's foremost artists, thereby offering collectors a new adventure in international art collecting. Each of the artists was invited to freely express his creativity on the obverse. They were also commissioned to create a second original work of art, a signed self-portrait, which was struck on the reverse. The medals were struck in high relief, and each medal contains 3,000 grains — more than 6 troy ounces — of sterling silver.

SYMBOLS OF FAITH

In response to the requests of many collectors, these 2 sculptures have been minted. One sculpture depicts the cross, the emblem of Christianity. The other portrays the Menorah, the Hebrew symbol of faith. The reverse of each medal and pendant bears the opening words of an appropriate prayer. The limited edition medals were available exclusively to Collectors Society Members. The pendants are still available at The Franklin Mint gift shops.

THOMASON MEDALLIC BIBLE

In the early 19th century, Sir Edward Thomason of England produced a series of 60 Biblical medals, titled The Thomason Medallion Bible. These 78mm medals portrayed important events of Biblical times, and were based on paintings by early Masters. A new version of this collection, in 45mm size, was produced by The Franklin Mint with newly engraved obverses, and newly selected Biblical quotations on the reverse. Fritz Weiland, an old-world master artist, hand-engraved the obverse designs on each medal.

UNITED NATIONS MEDALS

These medals are issued by United Nations to honor subjects of world wide interest and importance. Each year, the U.N. has issued 5 new medals matching the new commemorative stamps. Each medal is minted in 5 versions — one in each of the official languages of the U.N. — Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish. Sterling silver proofs in all 5 languages were available only in complete 5-language proof sets. Medallic first day covers and annual U.N. Peace Medals were also issued. In 1970, a 5-language version of the U.N.'s 75th anniversary medal was issued, and in 1971, an English-language medal honoring UNICEF'S 25th anniversary was issued.

VATICAN ART TREASURES

The art collections of the Vatican are among the richest and most important in the world. The Galleries, Buildings and Museums of the Vatican contain thousands of masterpieces — ranging from sculptures of classical antiquity through the frescoes and paintings of the Renaissance to modern works of art. To commemorate the 500th anniversary of the founding of the Vatican Museums, the oldest and among the most important of all the world's great art museums, the 100 outstanding art treasures of the Vatican were selected with the assistance of an Advisory Board, composed of nine Curators and Art Historians of the Vatican. This medallic collection consists of these 100 art treasures. Each medal is individually edge-numbered.

WASHINGTON CROSSING THE DELAWARE

This special medal, issued in 1976, commemorates the 300th anniversary of General George Washington's achievement in leading his army across the Delaware River on Christmas night 1776, and his subsequent victory over the Hessians at the Battle of Trenton. One side of the medal portrays Washington leading the crossing of the Delaware, while the other commemorates the subsequent Battle of Trenton, America's first decisive victory of the Revolutionary War. The distinguished American medallist Anthony Jones sculptured both sides of the medal. The sterling silver and the bronze medals each weigh 1,500 grains.

WATERLOO MEDAL

This work of art, which has been called the most beautiful medal ever conceived was a tribute to the Allied victory over Napoleon at the Battle of Waterloo in 1815. The medal was created by Benedetto Pistrucci, the famed Italian medallist. Pistrucci worked on the medal, which he regarded as his finest work, for 33 years, from 1817-1850. When he died, the work was technically unfinished, since it carried no inscription to specifically connect the medal with the victory at Waterloo.

The face of the medal carries profile busts of the 4 sovereigns whose alliance overthrew Napoleon, the Prince Regent (later King George IV) of England, Francis II of Austria, Alexander I of Russia and Frederick William III of Prussia. The outer border provides an allegorical interpretation of the victory and of the peace which followed. The central motif on the reverse depicts 2 mounted horsemen galloping into action, urged on by the winged figure of Victory. The border composition represents the mythological battle of the giants in their assault on heaven.

When this work was complete, the dies were considered so valuable, no one had the courage to harden them and risk damaging the sculpture. As a result, the original medal was never struck. Those original dies measures 5-1/4" in diameter and to this day they have still not been hardened. Many years ago, John Pinches (Medallists) Ltd — the British affiliate of The Franklin Mint, was authorized to make 2 sets of electrotypes in soft copper from these dies. From one of these electrotypes, Pinches struck the medal in a 2-1/2" size. New dies were produced, and Pinches added the inscription "Waterloo June 18, 1815" on the edge of each medal. Each sterling silver medal was serially numbered.

MEDALLIC COVERS

Medallic covers bring numismatics and philately together by combining coins, medals or ingots with commemorative covers. Usually, either the medallic specimen enclosed in the cover or the stamp was issued for the first time on the date indicated by the postmark. In other instances, both the medallic specimen and the stamp commemorate the same subject, and the postmark certifies their first day status. The first medallic cover produced by The Franklin Mint was issued by the United Nations on the occasion of its 25th anniversary in 1970. Since that time, The Franklin Mint has produced many other medallic covers in both the United States and other countries to commemorate events of world-wide significance.

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

The medallic cover was issued to commemorate the ANA's 1973 convention in Boston. It was postmarked on August 27, 1973 — the day of the banquet, at the ANA's convention station. It was presented to all banquet guests. (Other ANA medals are listed in the Medallic Issues section.)

BERMUDA

These first day covers commemorate the Royal Visit to Bermuda of H.M. Queen Elizabeth II and H.R.H. Prince Philip, the first stop on their tour of British Commonwealth nations in the Western Hemisphere. The $100 gold coin is the largest denomination coin ever issued by the Bermuda Monetary Authority. It is the first $100 gold coin in the history of Bermuda. A $25 coin in sterling silver was also issued; this coin bears the same design as the gold coin. The face of the coins features the portrait of Queen Elizabeth II. The reverse bears the Royal Cyphers of H.M. Queen Elizabeth II and H.R.H. Prince Philip, together with the Parliamentary Mace of Bermuda.

BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS

On June 30, 1973 the British Virgin Islands (BVI) issued the first official coins in its history, and a complete series of new postage stamps commemorating its first official coinage. The 6 first day covers combined each proof coin with a commemorative stamp having the same design as the coin. The covers were postmarked on June 30, 1973, the first day of issue of both the coins and the stamps. The Society of Philatelics and Numismatics presented the "Country of the Year" award to BVI for these cachets.

CONTINENTAL CONGRESS BICENTENNIAL

The Bicentennial Commission of Pennsylvania issued these 2 cachets to commemorate the Bicentennial of the 1st and 2nd Continental Congresses. The 1st Continental Congress medal was issued in an official cachet postmarked at Carpenters' Hall, Philadelphia, on September 5, 1974. The Postmark is the first ever to include the name of Carpenters' Hall.

The 2nd Continental Congress medal was issued in an official cachet postmarked at Independence Hall on May 10, 1975. The postmark is the first ever to include the name of Independence Hall. Both cachets include an integral Certificate of Authenticity bearing the signatures of the 13 then current Governors of the 13 Original States. The 2nd cachet was reserved exclusively for owners of the 1st cachet.

COOK ISLANDS

This cover combines the new $5.00 Cook Islands coin with a new $1.00 Cook Islands commemorative stamp. The coin and the stamp were issued to honor the establishment of a wildlife sanctuary on the Cook Islands. The cover is postmarked in Rarotonga - capital city of the Cook Islands - on November 15, 1976, the first day of issue for both the coin and the stamp. This is the date officially designated National Wildlife Conservation Day in the Cook Islands.

INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY OF POSTMASTERS

This series is being issued by the International Society of Postmasters, headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland, a world-wide organization whose membership includes postmasters from 120 different nations of the world. Each month, the Society selects the most important new commemorative stamp issued anywhere in the world on the basis of subject matter, design and collector interest. The medals are original works of art, honoring the same subject as the stamp, and minted by The Franklin Mint. Both the stamp and the medal are combined in a special cachet, which is postmarked on the stamp's first day of issue, at the Post Office of first issue, in the city and country of origin.

INTERPHIL '76

This was the first official medallic cover ever issued to commemorate a major international stamp exposition, Interphil '76 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. It was the first international stamp exposition to be held in the U.S. in a decade. The cover combines the official Interphil '76 medal with the official U.S. stamp, postmarked with the first day of show cancellation. The design on the cover was created exclusively for this occasion and symbolizes 200 years of U.S. postal history.

MICHELANGELO QUINCENTENNIAL

This is Italy's first medallic first day cover. It was minted and issued by Franklin Mint Italiana of Rome. It commemorates the 500th anniversary of the birth of Michelangelo. The face of the medal portrays Michelangelo himself, while the reverse is based upon the design for the dome of St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome.

The three official commemorative stamps issued by the Italian Government to honor Michelangelo's birth bear denominations of 40, 50 and 90 lire. The specially designed commemorative cover is postmarked on the stamps' first day of issue. The postmark is that of Caprese, Italy, the Tuscan city in which Michelangelo was born.

NATIONS OF THE WORLD

The United Nations is issuing this collection of 144 medallic covers in tribute to all its member nations, as part of the observance of the UN's 30th anniversary year. There is one cover for each nation holding a membership in the UN at the close of the 30th annual session of the General Assembly, in 1976. Each medal bears a scene reflecting the culture and heritage of the UN member. The cover bears a stamp of the honored nation and will normally be postmarked in that country.

PAPUA NEW GUINEA

This set of 8 first day cachets combines 8 proof coins and commemorative stamps honoring Papua New Guinea's independence and its first national coinage. In 1975, Papua New Guinea became an independent nation and issued its first coinage. Two of the 8 proof coins were minted in silver — the 10-kina coin in sterling silver and the 5-kina coin in .500 silver.

Cachet Size: 7-1/2" x 3-7/8"

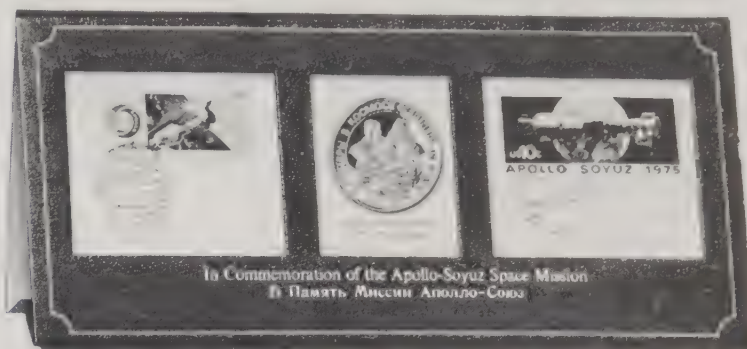

NOTE: These first day cover proof sets were issued on 2 different occasions. The first 6 proofs, 1 Toea to 1 Kina were issued in April 1975 while the last 2, 5 Kina to 10 Kina were issued in September 1975.

PARTNERS IN SPACE

This commemorative honors the first U.S.-Soviet Space Mission. It consists of 2 special stamps and cancellations — one American and one Soviet — plus a sterling silver proof medal. Each of the stamps portrays the American and Russian spacecraft at the moment of link-up in outer space and were both cancelled on the day of the link-up, July 17, 1975.

The Soviet stamp bears an illustration produced from a painting by Alexei Leonov, commander of the Soyuz spacecraft. Cancelled at the Soviet launching site at Baikonur, Kazakhstan. The U.S. stamp portrays the link-up of Apollo and Soyuz space vehicles. Postmarked at Kennedy Space Center in Florida, where the Apollo spacecraft was launched.

The obverse of the medal, issued by The Franklin Mint, bears the portraits of all five of the crewmen taking part in the mission. "Partners in Space" is inscribed in English and Russian. The reverse of the medal bears the official symbol of the mission, plus the names of all five men.

POSTAL SERVICE BICENTENNIAL

Issued by Postmasters of America, the organization jointly established by the National League of Postmasters and the National Association of Postmasters, to commemorate the Bicentennial of the American postal system. The official U.S. Postal Service cancellation on the cachet depicts the hand-written postmark of America's first Postmaster General, Benjamin Franklin. This Bicentennial cancellation on each cachet was applied for the first time on July 26, 1975 — the exact Bicentennial anniversary date of the postal system.

The historic flag stamps illustrate the flag version of the Stars and Stripes authorized by the Continental Congress. These U.S. commemorative stamps were removed from sale in 1972, and are no longer generally available. The official commemorative medal is the first pewter medal ever issued by Postmasters of America. It is also the first pewter medal ever struck by The Franklin Mint expressly for inclusion in a medallic cover. The obverse of the medal shows Benjamin Franklin postmarking letters by hand; the reverse bears the official insignia of Postmasters of America and the Bicentennial date of July 26, 1975.

POSTMASTERS OF AMERICA

Since 1971, these First Day Covers have combined official Postmaster of America medals with U.S. commemorative postage stamps. The design of the medal complements that of the stamp. Each cover bears the official FIRST DAY OF ISSUE cancellation and has been postmarked at the officially designated Post Office of first issue. Each cover bears an integral Certificate of Authenticity.

SAINT PATRICK'S DAY

Each year since 1972, The Franklin Mint has issued an annual St. Patrick's Day medal in a commemorative cachet. The medal is minted of pure Irish silver and depicts important events in the life of St. Patrick in Ireland. The medals are designed and sculptured by Ireland's most famous medallist, Gabriel Hayes O'Riordan. These are the only medals ever to be minted of pure Irish silver. The commemorative cachets are postmarked in Ireland on St. Patrick's Day, March 17th, near the site where the event depicted on the medal took place. Each cachet bears an integral Certificate of Authenticity signed by the Director of the National Trust for Ireland.

UNITED NATIONS

The medals and stamps in this category are official issues of the United Nations. A first edition English language medal is combined with the stamp in a Medallic First Day Cover. The theme of the medal complements that of the stamp. Each cover bears the official First Day of Issue cancellation of the United Nations in New York City, on the first day of issue of both the stamp and the medal. WORLD SERIES

The 1972 Baseball World Series was commemorated by this special medallic cover. This cover contained the first official World Series medal ever authorized by major league baseball. The reverse records the results of the seven World Series games. The cover was postmarked in the city of the championship team — the Oakland Athletics — on the day of the final game.

PHILATELIC COVERS

Unlike medallic covers which are a comparatively recent development, philatelic covers date from the very first issue of government postage stamps, the Penny Black, on May 6, 1840. At first, philatelic covers were not widely collected. For that reason, early covers postmarked on the first day of issue are rare and have sometimes sold for thousands of dollars. Fortunately for most collectors, the collecting of first day covers became more widespread by the 1920s. Since the 1930s, philatelic and first day covers have usually included a cachet which supplements and adds interest to the stamp or postal use. That a fascinating collection of these later issues can still be built at modest cost is evidenced by the philatelic covers issued through The Franklin Philatelic Society.

AMERICAN REVOLUTION BICENTENNIAL

The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA) is issuing this collection of 80 first day covers representing every nation that issued commemorative stamps to honor America's Bicentennial during 1976. Each stamp was the most significant Bicentennial stamp issue of the nation it represented. Each cover bears the official first day of issue cancellation, and was postmarked in the issuing country, at the official post office of first issue. An original engraving on each cover complements the theme of the stamp.

UNITED NATIONS

This collection consists of engraved First Day Covers bearing official UN commemorative stamps which honor events of lasting importance. Each cover combines one new stamp with an original work of art created by the same artist who designed that stamp. Each of these prominent international artists is a First Prize winner in the UN stamp design competition. The works of art appearing on these covers are being created exclusively for this series and will never be used anywhere else. Each cover is postmarked with the stamp's official First Day of Issue.

INGOTS

In 1970, The Franklin Mint introduced its first sterling silver ingot to collectors. By producing ingots in a convenient size and of consistently high quality, the mint popularized a new kind of numismatic collection. Many significant subjects and events have been commemorated, and all published mintage figures show the exact limits of each edition.

AIR AND SPACE INGOTS

The greatest events and the greatest heroes of America's leadership in the conquest of the air, and the exploration of space in the last 200 years are being honored in this collection of 100 ingots. It is being issued by the National Space Institute, Arlington, Virginia. The subjects to be commemorated have been selected by the aviation and space experts of the Institute

AMERICA IN SPACE INGOT

America's first manned space flight occurred on May 5, 1961. Astronaut Alan B. Shepard, Jr. soared into space in a 2800-pound capsule "Freedom 7." This ingot, issued in 1971, commemorates the 10th anniversary of that historic flight. The obverse design depicts an eagle soaring through space with the earth in background. The reverse contains the names and flight dates of the 25 American astronauts who traveled in space during the first 10 years of American space exploration. Each ingot weighs 1,000 grains.

BANK INGOTS — U.S.

For 5 consecutive years, from 1970 to 1974, The Franklin Mint annually issued a set of 50 1000-grain bank ingots. It was limited to 50 banks each year — one in each state. Each ingot was marked with the design of the issuing banks and certification of silver content. Individual ingots were made available to the issuing banks, but only The Franklin Mint could issue complete proof sets of all 50 ingots.

BILL OF RIGHTS INGOTS

This collection was issued on the occasion of America's Bicentennial in commemoration of The Bill of Rights — the document that guarantees each American's basic freedoms. Each of the 10 ingots in this collection honors one of the first ten Amendments to the Constitution — ten Amendments that comprise our country's Bill of Rights.

The face of each ingot portrays a scene dramatizing the meaning of the Amendment honored. The reverse briefly describes the significance of that Amendment and the rights it guarantees. In silver, the complete collection of 10 ingots contains a minimum of 5,300 grains of sterling silver; in Bronze, it contains 5,000 grains of Franklin Bronze.

BOOKS OF THE BIBLE

This series consists of sculptured silver tablets — ingots in the shape of an arch — depicting a major event from each Book of the Bible. This is the first series of works of medallic art created in this form. Because different faiths recognize different Books of the Bible as Holy Scripture, three different collections were made available.

NOTE: The prefix letter before the specimen number indicates the faith: C=Catholic, H=Hebrew and P=Protestant. Although ingots in each version will have the same designs, the sequence will not be identical for each faith due to differences in the number of Scriptures and their order of appearance (1-7 were in the same order for all 3 faiths).

BRITISH MONARCHY INGOTS

In commemoration of the 1000th anniversary of the British monarchy, John Pinches (Medallists) Ltd. of London, England. The Franklin Mint's British affiliate issued this series of 50 ingots. The Franklin Mint struck a single U.S. edition for Collectors Society Members. The 50 events depicted have been selected by Sir Arthur Bryant, one of Great Britain's most eminent scholar-historians. Each ingot weighs 1,000 grains.

CENTENNIAL CAR INGOTS

This collection of 100 ingots was issued in honor of the 100th anniversary of the first successful motor car. Each ingot depicts one of the greatest cars of the automobile's first 100 years. A distinguished international board of advisors chose the cars to be honored. A proof and non-proof edition are being issued, together with a mini-ingot version.

All ingots are Sterling Silver

COLLECTORS SOCIETY GOLD INGOT

This is the first solid gold 1,000 grain ingot ever issued by the mint. It is also the largest and heaviest solid gold ingot ever issued by the mint. This is the first gold ingot ever to feature a work of art created by Gilroy Roberts. The face of the ingot bears the classic portrait of Benjamin Franklin which was created by Mr. Roberts when the mint was first founded. The reverse bears an inscription that guarantees the weight, purity, and quality of the ingot, and bears the signatures of both Charles Andes and Brian G. Harrison, the Chairman and President of the mint respectively. Each ingot is serially numbered. This ingot was made available exclusively to Franklin Mint Collectors Society Members.

CURRIER AND IVES INGOTS

For 150 years, America has admired the works of Nathaniel Currier and James Merritt Ives. These outstanding artists played an important part in American life by capturing the substance and spirit of 19th century America, one of the most exciting and romantic periods in our history. The 12 pure silver ingots in this collection depict 12 master works of Currier and Ives. Each ingot is exceptionally large, 3" x 2". The complete collection of 12 ingots contains more than 16,000 grains of pure silver.

DOW JONES INGOT

This ingot was issued to commemorate the first day in history that the Dow Jones industrial index closed over 1,000 — November 14, 1972. It was only offered to Franklin Mint shareholders and readers of The Wall Street Journal, from November 17-30, 1972. The obverse features a replica of the tickertape that carried the report of the historic stock market breakthrough. The ingot contains 1,000 grams (more than 32 troy ounces) of sterling silver.

EL GRECO APOSTLE PORTRAITS

El Greco was the last of the great Renaissance artists. His style heralded new modes of expression in art. He was one of the few great artists to create individual, yet thematically unified, studies of Jesus and the Apostles. This is the first time the 13 El Greco portraits have been minted in a series of sculptured ingots. The ingots are proportional to the El Greco canvasses which hang in the Greco museum in Toledo, Spain. Each ingot weighs 600 grains.

FLAGS (AMERICAN) OF THE REVOLUTION

During the war for independence, American patriots marched under many different flags which they had created as symbols for their cause. This collection of 64 flag ingots portrays all the American flags known to have flown during the Revolution. The flag designs were authenticated by Dr. Whitney Smith, Director of the Flag Heritage Foundation, and the nation's leading authority of flag history.

Each ingot conforms both to the design and proportions of the flag it depicts, therefore, the sizes and weights of each ingot vary. However, the complete collection of regular size sterling silver proof ingots contains 25,000 grains of sterling silver. The complete collection of gold mini-ingots contains 2,000 grains of pure 24KT gold.

FLAGS OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Each of the flags of the member nations of the United Nations is being honored in this ingot collection. The sizes and weights of the ingots vary so that each ingot conforms to the proportion of the flag it depicts. The design of each flag was authenticated by Dr. Whitney Smith of the Flag Heritage Foundation.

Two different editions of these flag ingots are being issued. The regular size proof edition contains 135 ingots. The official flag appears on the face of the ingot; the reverse carries the name of the nation in English, the date of admission to the U.N. and a map pinpointing the location of the country. The mini-ingot collection has 142 ingots. The official flag appears on the face of the ingot; the reverse carries the official seal of the U.N. and the name of the nation in its own language. The difference in the number of ingots is due to the 7 nations which were admitted to the U.N. between the issuance of the 2 series (see * in list below.)

HISTORIC SILVER INGOT

On November 10, 1970, the U.S. Government sold its last 1.6 million ounces of available silver billon on a sealed bid basis. The Franklin Mint was successful bidder for the entire lot with a bid of $2,875,000. This ingot was minted from a portion of this last lot of silver. The reverse inscription on each ingot certifies that the silver contained therein is wholly from the last silver lot.

HISTORY OF THE U.S.

This collection is an officially recognized commemorative of The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, which was established by Act of Congress to coordinate the programs and events of the Bicentennial celebration. A board of distinguished historians was assembled to select the 100 great events to be commemorated.

The face of each ingot portrays the event commemorated. The reverse bears the official symbol of the 200th anniversary of the United States, the title and issue number. Each sterling silver ingot is guaranteed to weigh 750 grains.

KABUKI INGOTS

Kabuki is the great traditional drama of Japan. It has been called the most perfect and complete form of theatrical expression in all the world. The official Japanese Kabuki Theatre in Tokyo commissioned The Franklin Mint's affiliate in Japan to create this collection of 18 ingots. Each ingot portrays the most dramatic moment from one of the greatest of the Kabuki dramas. The original designs for these ingots were created expressly for this collection by the official artist of the Japanese Kabuki Theatre, Shojiro Hara. Each of the designs has been authenticated for historical accuracy by Japan's foremost Kabuki scholar, Professor Toshio Kawataka. The reverse is in Japanese, with special translations prepared for the English language collector.

COLLECTOR'S PLATES

Limited edition collector's were first seriously collected during the late 19th century. These plates were usually of porcelain, china or crystal. The collecting of sterling silver collector's plates received its primary impetus with the introduction of the first Franklin Mint Christmas Plate in 1970. Since that time, many other collector's plates have been produced, including editions in porcelain, crystal, pewter, gold and gold on sterling.

AMERICAN REVOLUTION BICENTENNIAL PLATES

The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA) is issuing this series of 13 high relief sculptured plates which portray momentous events in America's struggle for independence. Each plate bears an original work of art created expressly and exclusively for this collection by a distinguished American artist. The reverse of each plate bears the Official Symbol of America's Bicentennial, and a description of the event depicted. Each plate is serially numbered.

ANDERSEN PLATES

Denmark's leading maker of fine porcelain, Royal Copenhagen Porcelain, was commissioned to produce this collection of 12 plates to honor the centennial of Hans Christian Andersen. Each plate recreates one of his best known stories. The renowned British artist Pauline Ellison created the original works of art especially for this collection. She also designed the gold border which is hand-polished. As many as 20 ceramic colors are being applied to each plate. Royal Copenhagen's crest appears on the back of each plate. In the U.S. this collection was reserved for established Franklin Mint collectors.

BUFFET PLATES

The internationally known artist Bernard Buffet of France is designing a series of 5 annual sterling silver plates. These are original designs which will never appear in any other form. Each plate is serially numbered on a medallion affixed to the reverse of the plate. In the U.S., plates number 2, 3 and 4 were reserved exclusively for buyers of the first Buffet plate. These plates were made available to selected collectors outside of U.S. by The Franklin Mint's international affiliates.

CHRISTMAS PLATES

The first 6 annual Christmas Plates, 1970-1975, each carried an exclusive original work of art created by Norman Rockwell. Each sterling silver plate was serially numbered.

In 1976, two Christmas Plates were issued. The sculptured porcelain plate was the first in a series of annual porcelain plates inspired by the best-loved Christmas carols from around the world. The stained-glass Christmas Plate was hand-crafted; each pane was fitted into lead mountings separately, by hand. Eight different hues of glass were used in each plate.

FOUR SEASONS CHAMPLEVE PLATES

Ruth Korman, Master Enameler of Limoges, created the designs for this series of 4 plates. Each plate was completed under the artist's personal supervision, with every color applied separately, by hand. Therefore, no two plates are exactly alike. Each plate is serially numbered and a medallion affixed to the reverse of the plate. Each plate bears the artist's signature.

LIBERTY TREE CRYSTAL PLATE

This was The Franklin Mint's first collector plate in fine crystal. Each plate bears an original work of art sculptured by Gilroy Roberts. Each plate was hand-blown, and hand-finished — in Sweden — by Orrefors, one of the world's leading producers of fine art crystal. This plate was issued in Bicentennial tribute to Boston's famous Liberty Tree — where the "Sons of Liberty" met more than 200 years ago to organize America's struggle for freedom.

PRESIDENTIAL INAUGURAL PLATES

These plates were the only official Inaugural Plates in American history. Most were serially numbered and the Ford plate was the last.

The Nixon Agnew plate, issued in 1973, bears conjoined portraits of President and Vice President. It was the first collector's plate authorized by Congress.

The Ford plate was authorized by President Gerald R. Ford and issued by the Presidential Inaugural Medal Committee. The portrait of the President was sculptured by Mico Kaufman, the soaring Victory Eagle design with the Presidential seal on the reverse was sculptured by Frank E. Brown. This plate was issued both in 18KT Gold and Sterling Silver.

SEVEN SEAS CRYSTAL PLATES

James Wyeth is one of America's most important artists. These are his first works of art in crystal and were created exclusively for this edition. Each plate is hand-crafted by Orrefors of Sweden, and engraved and hand-polished by Franklin Crystal, a division of the Franklin Mint. The collection consists of 7 plates, each bearing the artist's interpretation of one of the 7 seas. This edition was reserved exclusively for established Franklin Mint collectors

UNIVERSITY, ALUMNI & FRATERNITY PLATES

This category includes individual plates authorized by university alumni associations and fraternities. They normally bear the official seal of the issuing institutions, a memorable campus scene or the fraternity coat-of-arms. Only the alumni, a select group of university friends or fraternity members are invited to acquire these plates. Many of these sterling silver plates are also etched with 24KT gold. Each plate is serially numbered on a medallion affixed to the reverse of the plate.

COLLECTOR'S SPOONS

Spoons especially for collectors first became popular about 1890. These spoons, made in elaborate designs to commemorate people, places and events throughout the United States, have always been avidly sought by aficionados. The Franklin Mint Collector's Spoons, which represent a return to the quality and fine workmanship of the "golden age" of spoon collecting, bid to restore the popularity of this fascinating hobby.

AMERICAN COLONIES SPOONS

This collection consists of 13 commemorative spoons, honoring the 13 original colonies that joined together to form the United States. The spoons bear fully sculptured and fully minted designs on every handle and in every bowl. The handle of each spoon portrays the official seal of the colony it honors. The bowl bears an original sculpture depicting an event of great importance in that colony's early history.

APOSTLE SPOONS

This was the first complete set of sterling silver Apostle Spoons produced in America since the turn of the century. The distinguished religious artist, Rodney Winfield, created the designs appearing on the spoons. The front of each spoon bears sculptured portrait of Jesus or one of His Apostles. On the back is the name and traditional symbol of that Apostle. The portion of the Apostles' Creed attributed to each one is etched into the bowl of his spoon.

DICKENS CHRISTMAS CAROL SPOONS

This is the world's first collection of pewter Christmas spoons; it was inspired by Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol". Each of the 12 spoons bears 2 sculptured original works of art. The 3-dimensional portrait figures in the handles depict the 12 most memorable characters, and the sculptured bowls portray the most important scenes from "A Christmas Carol". All of the figures, and all of the scenes, were created in England by the distinguished sculptor, Philip Nathan.

SCULPTURE

Sculpture can range in size from the Colossus of Rhodes to miniatures that can be displayed at home on coffee tables or in cabinets. Today, the trend is toward smallness — sculpture that satisfies the senses rather than overwhelms one by its size. Equally important is the fact that while many people wish to collect and enjoy sculpture, comparatively few have either the space or resources required for large sculptures which are more properly the domain of museums and national monuments. Since 1974, The Franklin Mint has made available sculptures of small size appropriate for collectors. Subjects range from the historical to the purely artistic. Additionally, the use of fine pewter, bronze, silver with 24kt gold and Bavarian porcelain offer an aesthetic choice to the discriminating collector.

AMERICAN PEOPLE — 1776-1976

This collection of 10 pewter figures honors the 10 generations of Americans who have lived during the 200 year history of the U.S. Each figure is sculptured in the finest detail, with complete devotion to historical accuracy. Each sculpture is an original work of art created exclusively for this collection by Andrew Chernak, one of the most gifted young American sculptors.

PRINTS, PLAQUES AND ETCHINGS

The visual. That's the word for prints, plaques and etchings. Although other collectibles are also visual, none are more easily discerned. If your inclination runs to fine art in the traditional sense, The Franklin Mint offers an unusual variety — engravings, etchings, prints, plaques and silver silhouettes. Enjoy!

AIRPLANE SILVERSCENES

These works of art are unlike any the mint has ever issued before. The lines and tones of the original art are etched into the sterling silver, while other aspects of the design are etched through the sterling silver. As a result, the SilverScene takes on a multi-dimensional effect. This series of 4 evokes the excitement and romance of the early years of manned flight. Each SilverScene is individually mounted in a custom-designed frame.

AMERICAN BIRD ENGRAVINGS

In commemoration of the 150th anniversary of John James Audubon's "Birds of America" engravings, the National Audubon Society is issuing this series of 4 hand-engravings, in color. Each engraving portrays one of America's most beautiful birds. The Society commissioned one of the greatest nature artists of our time, Albert Earl Gilbert, to create these engravings. The artist traveled throughout America and created his own designs, portraying each bird in authentic detail. The original design is then hand-engraved on the master plate by the master engraver, Yves Beaujard. The colors are then applied to this master plate by the artist. For each subsequent engraving, the colors are also applied — one by one. Audubon considered this method to be the only correct way to create bird engravings.

Each engraving is hand-signed and dated by the artist. Each engraving is mounted and custom-framed in a black and gold hardwood frame.

LOCOMOTIVE ETCHINGS

The gifted American artist Kathleen Cantin is creating this series of 4 original color etchings portraying the great American locomotives of railroading's early years. To create a color etching, the artist creates two separate and different plates; each etching is then hand-pulled twice. The second impression is matched exactly to achieve the finished work of art. The artist personally examines each etching in detail and adds her approval by hand-signing, dating and titling it herself. Each etching is matted and issued in a custom-designed wood frame.

PICASSO'S "THE HUNTER"
SILVER ETCHING

Pablo Picasso was the master genius of 20th century art. This etching is an original work of art, and is one of the masterworks of the final period of his life. This is the first issue of this work. It has the official authorization of Picasso's family and heirs. This is the only time this sterling silver etching will be issued. The etching is in a custom-designed frame of polished silver, and is mounted on a walnut panel measuring 6" x 7-3/8".

LEATHER-BOUND BOOKS

The Franklin Library, the publishing division of The Franklin Mint, was founded in 1973 in order to offer collectors the opportunity to acquire sumptuous, leather-bound, limited edition collections of fine books.

LEATHER-BOUND BOOKS

Through 1976, four series of leather-bound books have been issued by The Franklin Library, the publishing division of The Franklin Mint. All of the books in these collections have the following features:

1. Each volume is fully bound in genuine leather, which has been selected for quality of grain and texture.
2. The individually designed ornamentation of each cover is impressed into the leather in 22KT gold. The front cover, back cover and the spine are also worked in gold. In addition, the spine of each book is hubbed with raised horizontal ridges, in the tradition of fine bookbindings.
3. The endsheets are of fine moire fabric, in colors that enhance the bindings.
4. The pages are of the highest quality paper, specially milled for these series, and they are edged in gold.
5. Each volume includes a fine ribbon marker.
6. The books are all individually designed to reflect the character of each author's work. Each volume is different from all the others in binding design, in grain and color of the leather, and in varying sizes.
7. The volumes are illustrated with works of art commissioned expressly for the books from leading artists of the world, and by leading book illustrators of the past. The original works of art by distinguished living artists will never be published again.

FIRST EDITION SOCIETY

This collection consists of major new books written by today's greatest authors privately printed exclusively for members of the First Edition Society. Each first edition marks the first publication of a significant new book. These first editions are totally distinctive, and are completely different from the regular editions sold to the general public. Each volume is bound in genuine leather with gold ornamentation. (These books are described in greater detail on page 194.)

100 GREATEST MASTERPIECES OF AMERICAN LITERATURE

This collection of 100 leather-bound books is being issued under the auspices of The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration in honor of America's 200th anniversary. It consists of the greatest masterpieces of literature written by American authors over the past 200 years. It includes novels, biographies, historical works, poetry, drama, short stories, essays, etc. Major universities in every state nominated books for inclusion in this collection, which were then submitted to an Advisory Board of scholars and literary authorities who made the final selection. (These books are described in greater detail on page 194.)

CANADIAN COLLECTIBLES

Canada and the United States have the longest continuous border of any two countries in the world. Not surprisingly, there are many collectors on both sides of the border who collect numismatic and other specimens of both countries. To facilitate the collecting of Canadian specimens, this section catalogs those issued from 1970-1976 by The Franklin Mint Canada Ltd., and its predecessor The Wellings Mint Ltd.

APOLLO MEDALS

The 3 medals in this series commemorated U.S. Moonshots and were all designed by the well known designer-sculptor, Professor Imre V. Mosdossy. The silver and gold medals were individually edge numbered.

FLAGS OF CANADA INGOTS — HISTORIC

A collection of 32 sterling silver ingots that depict the great historic and sovereign flags that have flown over Canada from the time of the Vikings to the present day. This is the first comprehensive collection of silver ingots ever to depict these flags. The design of each flag conforms exactly to the flag it depicts; the proportions of the ingots vary as do these of the flags themselves. Therefore, the collection includes ingots of 7 different sizes. The complete collection contains more than 5-1/2 troy pounds of sterling silver.

FLAGS OF THE COMMONWEALTH INGOTS

The Royal Commonwealth Society authorized this collection of 36 ingots, which honors the official flag of each of the 36 member nations of the British Commonwealth of Nations. This is the first collection of silver ingots ever to depict the flags of all the Commonwealth nations. The proportions of these ingots vary, so that each ingot conforms to the proportions of the flag it depicts. As a result the collection includes ingots of 5 different sizes.

PRIME MINISTERS OF CANADA INGOTS

The Canadian Historical Association, founded in 1922 to encourage historical research and public interest in Canadian history, issued this series of 15 commemorative ingots. The collection portrays all the 15 Prime Ministers of Canada and their notable achievements. The face of the ingot combines a portrait of one of Canada's Prime Ministers with a scene depicting an outstanding achievement of his career — as selected by a special advisory board empanelled by The Canadian Historical Association. The reverse of each ingot bears the Official Canadian Coat of Arms, an authentic reproduction of the signature of the Prime Minister portrayed and the dates during which he held office.

PROVINCES OF CANADA MEDALS

This collection of 12 sterling silver medals was issued in enduring tribute to Canada. The face of each medal depicts the honored Province or Territory, together with a sculptured symbol of its special contribution to Canada. The reverse features a representation of the official flower of each Province. It also bears inscriptions — in both English and French — identifying these flowers and provides the date each Province entered Confederation, and the date each territory was created in its present form.

ROYAL CANADIAN MOUNTED POLICE MEDALLIC CACHETS

Much of the history and heritage of Canada has been shaped by The Royal Canadian Mounted Police (R.C.M.P.). In commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the force in 1973, two medallic cachets were issued honoring the two most significant dates in the history of the R.C.M.P. — May 23, 1873 the day Royal Assent was given to the Northwest Mounted Police Act, and August 30, 1873 the formation of the force by order in council.

Each cachet contains an authentic R.C.M.P. centennial stamp and a gold on sterling proof medal. The May 23rd cachet was postmarked by the Ottawa Post Office serving Parliament; the August 30th cachet was postmarked at Fort Macleod, the final destination of the rigorous march west.

TOKENS

During the years 1965 through 1969, The Franklin Mint produced a total of 267 Gaming Token issues, each bearing the name and trademark of a hotel, casino or race track in the U.S. or abroad. These were produced when silver dollars were disappearing from circulation because of rising silver prices. The mint has also produced admission, communion and transportation tokens.

ADMISSION TOKENS

Admission tokens have been used for admission purposes for hundreds of years. Two such token designs have been struck by The Franklin Mint.

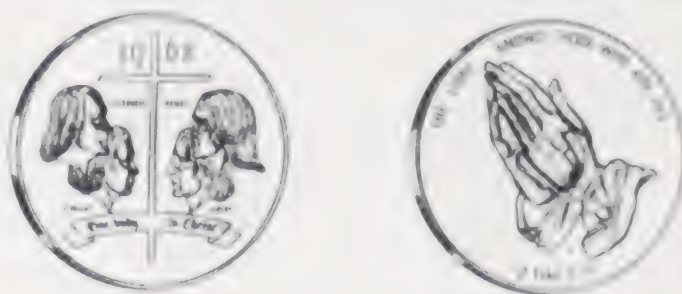

All Admission Tokens are 39mm, Mint, unless otherwise noted.

COMMUNION TOKENS

Communion tokens were widely used in the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries to identify church members desiring to receive Communion. The Franklin Mint has minted tokens for present-day use.

Sold to churches directly.

All Communion Tokens are 32mm, Mint or Proof-like

Issued: 1968.

GAMING TOKENS

For years, U.S. silver dollars were used in Nevada on the gaming tables and in dollar slot machines, as well as for general monetary purposes. When these silver dollars started selling at premium prices in 1964 — as a result of rising silver prices and collector demand — Nevada gaming casinos found themselves in a difficult position. The "cartwheel" disappeared just about as fast as they were placed on the gaming tables.

When it became apparent that the silver dollar problem was not going to solve itself, the Nevada Gaming Commission passed a regulation permitting the casinos, for the first time, to issue their own private dollar-denomination metal tokens.

The Franklin Mint minted its first gaming tokens for Harrah's Casino in July 1965. During the years from 1965 through 1969, The Franklin Mint produced a total of 267 Gaming Token issues, each bearing the name and trademark of a hotel, casino or race track in the U.S. or abroad. These tokens were minted in $5.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.00, 50¢ and foreign denominations, in various metals and sizes.

In 1965 and 1966, gaming tokens were issued only in the $1.00 denomination. In 1967, 50¢, $2 and $5 denomination gaming tokens were introduced. And in 1968, a $2.50 gaming token was introduced. With a new silver (or silverless) dollar on the horizon, The Franklin Mint discontinued producing gaming tokens at the end of 1969.

TRANSPORTATION TOKENS

People who specialize in collecting transportation tokens are called Vecturists, a term derived from the Latin vectura, meaning passage money. This kind of token has long been used on various modes of transportation such as horsedrawn carriages, buses, street cars, and for bridge tolls and drayage fares.

All Transportation Tokens are Commercial Brass, Mint, unless otherwise noted.

Issued: 1967-1971, 1976

THE BIBLE

This family Bible is bound in a sculptured sterling silver cover containing more than one troy pound of sterling silver; the back cover, spine, and hinges of the binding are also of sterling silver. The cover is an original work of art by Oriol Sunyer, of Barcelona, Spain. The illuminations are from the 14th century Queen Mary's Psalter; this is the first time these 40 illustrations have appeared in any printed Bible. Each Bible has a special section for the family genealogy, and for the records of future generations. Each Bible is individually inscribed, by a master calligrapher, with the owner's family name. Two texts were available — the King James text for Protestants and the authorized New American Bible text for Catholics. Each volume contains over 1250 pages, including the texts of the Old and New Testaments, plus appendices.

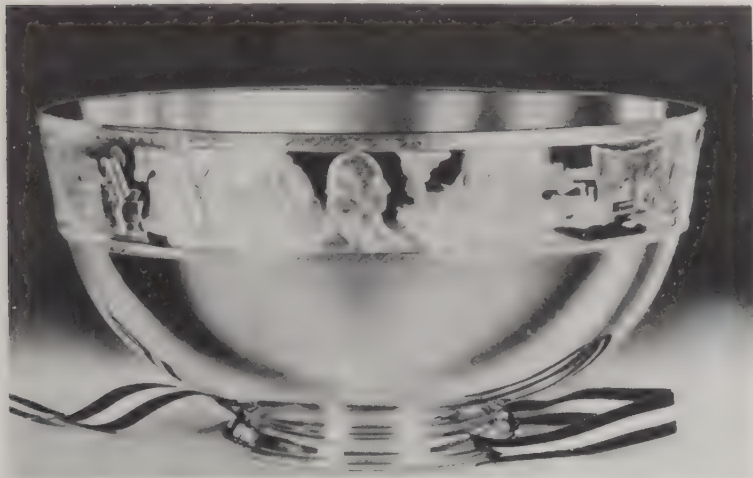

Size: 9" x 11-3/8"

Protestant — King James	3,441	$400	$400/450
Catholic — New American Bible	1,770	400	400/450

* The Bible is available in both Protestant and Catholic editions.

BICENTENNIAL BOWL

This is probably the largest and heaviest commemorative silver bowl ever issued in the U.S. It is an original work of art, created on the occasion of American's Bicentennial. It is crafted of more than 150 troy ounces of sterling silver, and lined with pure 24KT gold. The sculpture circling the Bowl portrays the sweep of 200 years of American history. Each bowl is individually numbered.

BICENTENNIAL CAMEOS IN CRYSTAL

In honor of the American Bicentennial, this collection of 10 cameos, set in full lead crystal, was issued by The Franklin Mint in conjunction with Cristalleries de Baccarat and Crystal d'Albret of France. Each crystal is individually hand-finished and hand-polished. The white cameo appears against a contrasting background of color. Each pair of cameos depicts two great figures of the Revolutionary era — one American and one French. The original cameo portraits were sculptured in bas-relief by the sculptors of The Franklin Mint.

FREEDOM BOX

During America's early years, it was the custom to present a Freedom Box, crafted in precious metal and elaborately decorated, to distinguished visitors in official welcoming ceremonies. The Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge revived that tradition by commissioning The Franklin Mint to create and produce this Freedom Box, for presentation to distinguished visitors during America's Bicentennial. The Box is crafted of sterling silver and sculptured in high relief. The cover sculpture depicts an American Eagle, and the four sides bear sculptured scenes representing the Four Freedoms: speech, religion, assembly and the press.

GREETING CARDS

The Franklin Mint annually issues one or more medals appropriate to the holiday season. Silver and gold proofs of these medals are minted for collectors, while specimens in other metals, encased in special gift and greeting cards, are made available to both collectors and the public. Each such card opens like a traditional card and affords space for a signature and personal message, if desired. A mailing envelope accompanies each card. (The 1966-1969 cards were fitted with an easel stand, and did not open.)

All medals are 39mm. Proof-like or Mint.

POWDERHORN IN CRYSTAL

This is an original work of art in the shape of a powderhorn of 200 years ago. Eighteenth century powderhorn is individually hand-blown by Crystalblowing de Baccant in Lorraine, France. It is ornamented with an original design in striking silver, created expressly for this work by the distinguished artist, Joe Baccant. Capturing the heroic spirit of the American Revolution, it is capped and banded by sterling silver, with a sterling silver plug.

PROFILES IN COURAGE COMEOS

On the occasion of the 20th anniversary of the publication of John F. Kennedy's "Profiles in Courage", this collection of 9 sculptured portrait cameos was issued. Each cameo portrays one of the 8 great men of courage singled out by Kennedy in his Pulitzer Prize winning book. The collection also includes a cameo portrait of Kennedy himself. The cameos were created in bas-relief; the cameo itself was dome-shaped. In addition, a special leather-bound 20th anniversary edition of Kennedy's book with a foreword by Mrs. Rose Kennedy, the mother of the President, was privately printed for each subscriber.

$2.00 BICENTENNIAL BILL

The U.S. Government authorized a newly designed $2.00 bill issued in commemoration of America's Bicentennial. The face of the bill bears a portrait of Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence. The back depicts the signing of the Declaration by delegates of the 13 original states. The Bicentennial Council of 13 Original States made these bills available in a special sealed case — each obtained on April 13, 1976, the first day of public issue.
